

Society News LA

An Online Magazine

LOS ANGELES FALL WINTER 2012 SOCIAL CALENDAR

Nov. 5 - Author Cynthia Barde will host a special book signing and tea party to launch her new children's book, "Pansy at the Palace." Inspired by her poodle Pansy, adopted from an animal shelter, the book both entertains and raises awareness of The Humane Society, animal shelters and rescue organizations. Open to the public, at the Peninsula Hotel, Beverly Hills. No charge, but RSVP required rsvp@aepr.com. (310) 271-0011

Nov. 8 - 9 - Allee Willis "Ba-de-ya, Baby," the hit show by the Grammy, Emmy, Tony and Webby award-winner is coming to NoHoPAC (North Hollywood Performing Arts Center) for two days only. The show combines her prodigious body of work as a songwriter, live performer, visual artist, multimedia artist and iconic party thrower, celebrating her life with music, art, sing-alongs, stories, a live band, dancers and special guests, delivered with a party vibe. Tickets $45.99. 310 271-0111.

Nov. 13 - Women's Guild of Cedars-Sinai Fall Gala honors Wendy Goldberg and "Blue Bloods" executive producer Leonard Goldberg with the "Hollywood Icon" Award; Goldberg, who owns Mandy Films, is a former president of Twentieth Century Fox and ABC's head of programming. Performance by Stevie Nicks; host LL Cool J. Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Tickets start at $750. (323) 904-4400.

Nov. 24 - The National Charity League Debutante Ball, staged by the San Fernando Valley Chapter, will honor this year's debutantes for their years of service to the charity. The young women are pictured on this page at the group's pre-Gala Promenade event. (See names in the photo captions below.) The ball takes place at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Tickets $200. (818) 642-6701.

Dec. 1 - Let The Kids Grow Foundation Holiday Gala honors Tyler Perry, Dwight Howard, Kirstie Alley, Usher, Nick Cannon and Romeo Miller. The black-tie celebrity dinner features entertainment and special guests still to be announced. Co-hosted by Simin Hashemizadeh and Percy "Master P" Miller. Funds help young people to become positive, confident, contributing members of the community. Tickets start at $1,000. (310) 906-6220

ANASTASIA LUKIMAN

Andrew Freedman Public Relations

T: 310.271.0011 | F: 310.271.0033 | www.aefpr.com